Why Attend

IOSH Managing Safely is an ideal course for any individual in a supervisory or management position to understand why and how to manage safety within their organization effectively.

IOSH Managing Safely takes participants through the essential steps in effective health and safety management, from identifying and assessing risks and developing control methodologies, to understanding personal and corporate responsibilities.

The course also includes vital information on the importance of incident investigations and how to conduct an investigation, to identify the root causes of incidents to reduce the risk of repeating similar incidents.

IOSH Managing Safety provides critical information on how to set leading and positive performance goals and track success against these to drive positive health and safety culture within organizations.

Course Methodology

The course includes relevant videos and written course material. Delivery of the course involves significant amounts of group discussion and small group work, with participants expected to feed back their assessments to the wider group for discussion.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, participants will be able to:

Implement risk assessment methods to identify and rank health and safety risks within their business

Develop controls to reduce or mitigate these risks to minimize business exposure

Understand both personal and corporate responsibilities relating to health and safety

Have an understanding of how to investigate incidents to reduce the likelihood of reoccurrence

Develop methods of measuring performance against health and safety targets

Target Audience

IOSH Managing Safely is designed for managers and supervisors in any sector, and any organization worldwide. The course provides the knowledge, skills and tools to tackle the safety and health issues that they're responsible for.

Importantly, Managing Safely makes a powerful case for safety and health being an integral part of day-to-day management and business.
